Education Of New School Starts Festivities

Medina County's fourth big all Catholic church celebration is scheduled for Devine Sunday in commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of St. Joseph's parish and according to advance indications most of the county will head for the festivities at Devine.

Hondo, D'Hanis and Castroville have sponsored such celebrations in the summer months with record crowds attending each occasion.

The day will start at Devine at 9:30 a.m. the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Patrick J. Geehan, P. A., G., slated to officiate at the Mass and Rev. Alexander Wanner to be celebrant of the Solemn Mass.

Dinner will be served at Schott's from 11:30 a.m. until 5 p.m., at 5 p.m. a Mexican supper will be served on the church grounds with entertainment. Amusements and games will last throughout the day.

Concurrent with observance of the golden jubilee will be formal dedication of the new St. Joseph's school which will be opened to students next fall.

The following history of St. Joseph's is from The Alamo Star, a Catholic publication in San Antonio:

Founded 1897
St. Joseph's parish was founded September, 1897, through the untiring efforts of the late Rev. Andrew Metzinger, with the aid of 21 parishioners. Upon his arrival in Devine, Father Metzinger took up collections from the handful of Catholics living in the area and purchased property on which he erected a 24-x-65-foot structure of lumber. This church served the purposes of the parish until 1922, when the present spacious church was built. This church was blessed Feb. 12, 1922.

The first baptism in the newly established parish took place Feb. 6, 1897, and First Holy Communion was administered Sept. 6, 1897. Confirmation was first administered on Oct. 27, 1897, by Bishop Anthony Forest.

School In 1900
In 1900, Father Metzinger, with assistance of Robert Teel, carpenter, built the first school. Funds for the lumber structure were donated to Father Metzinger by a man from the North who wished to assist a struggling parish. Classes were taught in this school by the Sisters of Divine Providence.

Classes were discontinued in 1901. In 1906 the present stone school was built. About this same time a Mexican church and school were constructed where the new school is now located. (Continued on Page 6)

The above picture is printed not for any particular news value but because our office cat insisted — "print it," said the cat, "er i'll let the doggone mise run wild around this place!" It seems that many have been accusing Editor Galvin of writing the cat's column chiefly because it indicates an educational level closely paralleling his. The cat conducted a straw vote among Hondo citizens last week on this matter, but so far the results show only that most people prefer shredded wheat. The cat hopes that this photo, showing the actual writing of the column at The Anvil Herald where

LaCoste Classes Select Queen Candidates

LACOSTE — Each class of LaCoste High School met at the home room period on Wednesday, October 8, and elected a candidate for queen of the school carnival, which is scheduled for Saturday evening, Nov. 8. The seniors elected Myrtle Bryant; the juniors, Frannette Bryant; sophomores, Dorothy Kalofa; and the freshman class elected Mary Ann Ahr. In the same meeting, class representatives for the queen's court were elected as follows: senior, Joyce Whitehead; junior, Geraldene Dondero; sophomore, Evelyn Friesen; and freshman, Betty Jean Trip.

Successful candidate for queen will be determined by the number of votes cast at a penny a vote.

The school will be aided in the carnival project by committees composed of parents and friends of the school and the program will be announced later. Committees and general arrangements are under the management of Supt. Matt Bader.

New Organ For Castro Church

Zion Lutheran Church in Castroville has received a new electric organ, and the congregation is planning a special organ concert for the dedication services.

Purchased at a cost of $3,500, all the funds were raised by donations from the members of the Church. Included in the installation is a set of chimes, and an electrical amplifier has been placed in the bell tower so that the chimes may be heard over the town.

Mr. R. Fischer of San Antonio, well known organist, will play the organ at the concert, scheduled for 8 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 26. The congregation and their pastor, Rev. L. J. Durkop, have extended an invitation to all their friends in the county to come to Castroville for the concert.

BULLETIN

Meeting will be held at the Medina County courthouse Wednesday, Oct. 22, at 2 p.m. of all county landowners for purposes of suggesting the five subdivisions of the county for soil conservation and for selection of supervisors of each zone.

Mrs. Raney Injured In D'Hanis Fire

Hondo volunteer firemen made the trip from home-in-need to D'Hanis in only 15 minutes early Wednesday morning when the fire alarm sounded the death knell of a historic D'Hanis landmark, the "old Koch Hotel," but couldn't outrun the devouring hunger of the flames which had nearly destroyed the building by the time they got there.

The building, owned by Hugo Brotze of D'Hanis, was being operated as a hotel and lunch room by Henry Biry. Serious injury was sustained by Mrs. Thelma Raney, only occupant of the hotel, who was forced by the flames to jump from the second story window. Medina hospital reported Wednesday she was suffering from severe shock and back injury. Fire marshal Hitzfelder reported her back had been broken in the leap. Her little boy, about ten years old, leaped with her but was uninjured.

Building was found in flames at a little later than three a.m. The alarm was sounded in Hondo at 3:15 and Hondo firemen arrived in time to save the store next to the burned hotel at 3:30. According to reports, the building and cafe equipment were insured but not the belongings of Mrs. Raney.

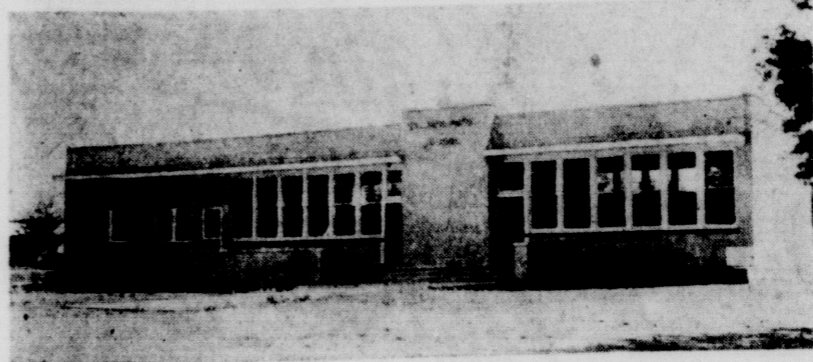

All Catholic Schools Will Close Oct. 23-25

All Catholic schools of Medina County as well as others of the San Antonio Archdiocese will be closed Oct. 23-25 on the occasion of the first regional Inter-American Congress of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine to be held those three days in San Antonio.

Twenty members of the Catholic Hierarchy from this country, Mexico and Central America will participate, and the congress will be under the patronage of Most Rev. Robert S. Lucey, Archbishop of San Antonio.

Bishop L. J. FitzSimon of Amarillo, formerly of Medina County, will be among those present. Parts of the congress will be broadcast.

WOMAN ARRESTED AND CHARGED WITH FORGERY

Mrs. Ruth Farrell has been arrested and placed in the county jail this week on a charge of forging endorsements on old age assistance checks made out to her parents. Several local concerns which had paid out cash to her on the strength of the signatures had to dig up the money for a refund to the government this week.

Her parents came to see the old age assistance office recently to find out why their checks had not arrived, and the interception was discovered at that time. The checks had been sent since March, and the government found that all had been cancelled.

George Schuehle Injured Monday

George Schuehle suffered from several broken ribs and perhaps other injuries this week resulting from a freak accident occurring while he was helping haul a load of stoves from the airfield Monday afternoon.

Stoves were tied on a truck and after crossing the railroad tracks at the L. E. Kollman residence corner, began to sway. Schuehle stood on the running board while the truck was in motion in an attempt to hold the load on, and was knocked off when they slid. He is in Medina hospital.

Issue Up To Castro Voters October 30

The town of Castroville will make its second effort to become an incorporated city in the near future following favorable action by the Medina County Commissioners Court on a petition submitted this week by Ralph Tschirhart and signed by more than 50 other resident electors of the town.

Petition asked that an election be ordered so the people of Castroville can determine their desire to incorporate.

If the election carries, according to the petition, the new city will use a city council type of government. Submitted with the petition was a plan showing the proposed corporate limits of the City of Castroville.

Last petition for an incorporation election was held about a year and a half ago and was defeated. Reasons given for the move now are to offer more adequate service in public utilities and to enable Castroville to keep abreast with the growth of other Medina County towns.

Election is slated for Oct. 30, and Ralph Tschirhart will be election judge.

Install Officers Of LaCoste VFW Auxiliary

Red Cross Statistics Show Receipts Low

Interesting statistics on the Red Cross fund drives of the past few years were turned up this week by Mrs. Selby Woolls, executive secretary of the Medina County Chapter.

During 1944 and 1945, the soldiers at the airfield gave $34,590.38, while Medina County's civilian population turned in $12,871.67.

In 1946 the civilian support of the Red Cross dropped to $2,421.38 and in 1947 only $1,259.99 was collected in the county-wide fund drive.

The statistics were compiled to show people of the county the feeling of obligation that the local chapter has toward servicemen and their families who are in our community.

ELEVEN GREENHANDS IN HONDO FFA CHAPTER

Eleven Greenhands were initiated into the Hondo chapter of the Future Farmers of America at the organizations meeting last week. Greenhands are composed of boys in their first year of agriculture in the school.

New members include Bud Woolls, Billy Laughinghouse, Tommy Hollmig, Jerome Reitzer, Edward Joe Brucks, Ralph Gilliam, Mike Larkin, Buckly Van Fleet, Roy Meyer, James Wendland and Lloyd Tschirhart.

BIEDIGER INDICTED TUESDAY ON ATTEMPTED MURDER CHARGE

Services For Zuberbueler Held Monday

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. M. J. Lorfing at Horgers at 9:50 a.m. Oct. 13 for John Zuberbueler, 64, of Dunlay who was found dead at about 5 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 9 from heart failure.

The deceased was on a trip with a brother from Comstock to Big Bend National Park and were about 80 miles south of Marathon when they had car trouble. Mr. Zuberbueler started walking back toward a ranch house they had passed several miles back. After some time had passed his brother became worried and started back to look for him. About two and a half miles back he found his brother dead in the road.

The deceased was born March 1, 1883, in New Mexico, son of U. Zuberbueler and Katherine Heuscher. He spent his childhood in Mexico and moved to Big Bend, Texas, in 1896 and then to Dunlay in 1898.

On Oct. 26, 1909, he married Miss Adella Haby and the couple had one son, Robert, before his death. He passed away on his wedding anniversary in 1914. On Feb. 7, 1917, he married Miss Nora Leavelle and the couple has had one daughter, Florence.

Surviving are the widow, his son Robert, Hondo, and daughter, Mrs. Hy. Stiegler of Dunlay, four grandchildren, his brother Emil of Comstock and his sister Mrs. Louise Burger of Dunlay. Four nephews and three sisters preceded him in death.

HOW TO MAKE MORE MONEY ON YOUR EGGS

U. S. poultry raisers are becoming increasingly aware of the importance of 'quality' in the business of producing and marketing eggs. In many market places including Hondo, the poultryman gets a premium for fresh high-grade eggs. Thus, it's worth his time to pay some attention to the care his market eggs receive before they are sold.

What can be done, you ask, to preserve the quality of eggs between the time they are laid and the day they were taken to market? There are quite a number of things that enter into the preservation of egg quality. Such factors as proper storage and cleanliness, for instance, have a real bearing on how eggs are graded.

Here are some pointers to remember about egg handling, suggestions which may help you earn extra egg money.

1. Collect eggs often, three times per day if possible. The quality of eggs deteriorates rapidly if they are left in a warm laying house too long.

2. Be sure that the nesting material is clean and deep.

3. Do not allow birds to roost in nests at night — dirty eggs result.

4. Store eggs in a cool, moist place. Storage temperature should be 45 to 55 degrees.

6. Use wire baskets for egg gathering and cooling. Don't pack eggs in boxes or cases until they have cooled.

7. Clean dirty eggs with steel wool.

8. Pack eggs, big end up.

9. Line the cases with newspaper during cold weather.

10. Before taking them to market, candle all eggs for poor shells, cracks and meat spots, separating them according to expected grade.

It pays, because No. 1 eggs in Hondo bring 13c more per dozen, at present prices.

WHEAT, OATS ADVANCE, EGGS FIRM, CATTLE VARY IN MARKETS

Spots of strength and weakness checked southwest farm markets last week in very uneven trends, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Wheat and oats registered rather sharp advances for the week. Corn hardly covered early losses as continued favorable weather aided crop prospects. Sorghums fluctuated widely but closed Friday unchanged from a week earlier, at around $3.65 per hundred-weight. Wheat stood at $3.02½ per bushel, base grade.

Slight advances in rough rice prices reflected more active foreign demand for milled rice. Mill-feeds and oilseed meals declined during the week, as most other feeds gained. Hay moved more freely at slightly higher prices for good quality. Peanuts found slow demand, as harvesting became more general. Fine Texas wools were getting scarce, but average staple 1946 lots sold at $1.18 to $1.20 clean basis.

Eggs continued to sell at firm prices last week, while poultry showed slight weakness at some places. Most heavy hens brought 22 to 24 cents per pound at Ft. Worth, 28 at Dallas, 22 to 26 at Denver, and 31 to 33 at New Orleans. Fort Worth and Dallas paid around 55 cents per dozen for best candled eggs, and New Orleans gave 56 for fresh No. 3 extras. Denver took best current receipts at 43 to 47.

Cauliflower weakened at Colorado shipping points during the period, but potatoes and onions sold steady to firm. Some fall vegetables gained strength as the frost season drew near. Cabbage, carrots, cucumbers and onions sold higher at St. Louis and Kansas City. Many products took on a firmer tone at Fort Worth. Demand slackened for sweet potatoes, but prices changed little in Louisiana.

Cattle varied some during the week but closed mostly steady to strong, with Texas cows and calves the principal exceptions. Medium and good cows sold generally from $14 to $16 at Texas markets, where common and medium kinds ranged largely from $12 to $14, and canners and cutters from $8.50 to $11. Other southwest terminals paid around $13.50 to $18 for common to good cows. Canner and cutter cows brought $9.20 to $12.50 at Oklahoma City and Wichita, and $11 to $13.50 at Denver.

Slight daily ups and downs left hog prices largely steady to 50 cents higher for the week. San Antonio set a new all time high of $28.50 but closed a little below the peak. Closing top prices on butcher hogs ranged from $29 to $29.50 at other southwest markets. Sows brought mostly $25 to $27, and pigs $20 to $26.

Slaughter lambs suffered losses of 50 cents to $1 at most southwest terminals, but San Antonio remained steady to strong. Other classes held mostly steady. Medium and good fat lambs brought $18.50 to $19 at San Antonio, and $18.50 to $20 at Fort Worth. Good and choice kinds sold around $21 to $22.50 elsewhere.

ropolitan Opera's leading Wagnerian soprano; Zino Francescatti, celebrated French violinist; Gregor Piatigorsky, world's leading solo cellist; Virginia MacWaters, widely hailed young American coloratura soprano, and Robert Merrill, popular baritone star were organized in the parish in 1900 and have been the backbone of the parish until the present day.

Father Metzinger served as pastor until his death on March 22, 1910, when he was laid to rest in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Rev. Formann Comes
The Rev. Frank Formann succeeded as pastor from February to May of 1910 and was relieved by the Rev. Frank Moss, who served as pastor until May 12, 1912, when the Rev. R. Planchet took over the parish from 1912 until 1924. The Rev. Leo Goertz was pastor from 1924 until July 31, 1932. It was during Father Planchet's stay that the present rock church building was erected. The Rev. Lambert Shiel was pastor from August, 1932, until September, 1942.

Two native sons of St. Joseph's parish have been ordained to the priesthood in the Archdiocese of San Antonio. They are the Rev. Paul J. Ehlinger, now director of the Catholic Welfare bureau in San Antonio, and the Rev. Harold J. Ehlinger, pastor at Nixon.

1942 — Father Vaitonis

The present pastor, the Rev. P. A. Vaitonis, was appointed to St. Joseph's by Archbishop Robert E. Lucey in September of 1942. Through his able leadership, a church debt amounting to $4,000 was liquidated and many improvements made in the church and on the parish grounds. Funds were raised to erect the now newly completed school.

The new school, a 34-by-96-foot masonry building, embodies two classrooms and living quarters for the sisters. First classes will be held in the school in the fall of 1948.

Since Father Vaitonis' pastorate, the following societies were instituted in the parish: Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, Catholic Action Council of Men and Council of Women, Sodality of Young Folks, and the CYO. The two youth groups have now been combined into one organization.

Devine Holds Hondo To 13-13 Tie

Owls Lick Warhorses 4-2 On Penetrations

Hondo's billing in District 37-A slipped by quite a few notches last Friday when the Owls built up a 13-0 lead by the end of the first half and then watched a fighting group of Devine Warhorses stampede for two touchdowns in the second half to tie the favorites 13-13.

It being a conference game, winter was decided by penetrations and Hondo came out on top 4-2 for a technical victory.

It was Owl right guard Eugene Norwood who set up the first penetration for the Owls early in the first quarter, snaking through the Warhorse line on a punt play helping to create a Devine fumble and then pouncing on it to give the Owls first and 10 on the Devine 48. Boon, Braden and Amberson lugged the leather and a Boon-Langfield pass advanced the ball to the Devine 19 where the offensive bogged down and the ball went over on downs. Devine could get nowhere and a quick punt on third down went 55 yards to the Owl 20. Two plays later little Curtis Braden chalked up a sparkling 43 yard run to put the ball on the Devine 35 and set up the first Owl touchdown as the quarter ended.

As the second quarter started, Boon's passes clicked for a quick touchdown. He threw four, one going to Pauline Mueller for a first down and a couple of plays later uncorked a 40 yarder from far behind the line of scrimmage which went to Braden in the end zone for the first score of the game. Devine's Redus slashed through to block the kick.

Devine ran the kickoff back to the 40 but could get nowhere from there. Sanson threw one nice pass which would have spelled touchdown had not Braden skinned over the turf to knock it down and Sanson punted to the Owl 17. The Owls started another touchdown march which provided one of the most thrilling runs of the game. Boon, back to pass, was driven far back of the line of scrimmage and uncorked a long diagonal to Braden who caught it behind the line of scrimmage. Braden took it right in the middle of a herd of Warhorses, then knifed and twisted his way for a 54 yard gain. Boon then provided another thrill when he tried to pass from the 45, was swamped by a surging Warhorse line which almost hid him completely from the stand before he suddenly shot out like a bolt of light and all the way to the Devine 3 yard line. Boon then hurled the touchdown pass to Pauline Mueller who was knocked out on the catch in the end zone but held the ball long enough to be credited with the catch. A fake punt play which blossomed into a pass to Amberson made the point to put the Owls in front 13-0 at the half.

In the second half Devine took the kickoff and started from their 30 where Norwood had plastered the runner. Fohn pounced on a

Stanley Hollmig

Big Stan Hollmig, sophomore at A. and M., falls into the first string quarterback slot for the Aggies this week following the ankle injury last week of the Aggies' Cashions. Stan has been running most of the A. and M. offense this year and his canny engineering, target rifle passes, combined with the fact that he is one of the best punters in the nation (he averaged 53 yards in six kicks last week), make him a prominent candidate for national recognition.

Hoots, Lose, Midgets Win

DEVINE — Thursday night, Oct. 9 the Hondo Midget football team invaded Devine territory and defeated the Devine Midgets 6-0. Both teams played like veterans. A pass and a long run won the game for the visitors.

DEVINE — In a closely contested game Devine's Colts defeated Hondo's Hoots by a score of 13-6. This is the second game between these two teams.

In the former game on Hondo's field the hoots defeated the Colts. Outstanding players for Devine Thursday night were Bush, Schneider.

fumble on the 35 and the Owls seemed off for another touchdown until Braden tumbled and Devine recovered on their 15. The Warhorses chalked up three first downs before their offensive bogged down and Sanson punted to the Owl 20. The first Hondo play gave Devine the ball again on a rumble and the Warhorses outlough a stubborn Owl line with Briscoe diving over the line from the one yard line on fourth down to bring Devine into the game. Just a few minutes later in the fourth quarter, after Hondo had given the ball on a punt, Briscoe broke loose from the Devine 48 for a 52 yard touchdown scamper. Kick was good this time, tying the score at 13-13.

As the fourth quarter faded away the Owls took to the air, Briscoe broke loose from the Devine 48 for a 52 yard touchdown Boon getting off good passes but Devine's defensiveness were too alert for any completions. Devine took over on their own 15 on downs and Briscoe chalked up two consecutive first downs before Braden intercepted a long pass and ran it back to the Devine 43. Two plays later Braden was taken out of the game with a hurt ankle after making a nice catch. Alderette ran seven and Tommy Amberson made a pretty 15 yard gain as the game ended.

Eagles In 18-12 Castro Victory

The LaCoste High School Eagles remain undefeated after scoring their fifth victory of the season last Friday night in downing the Castroville Comets 18-12.

Coach G. C. Herring of LaCoste played his second, third, and fourth stringers against the small and inexperienced Castroville team, all of the game with the exception of three minutes in the fourth quarter when the first team went in. The first stringers scored two quick touchdowns during the brief time they were in the game.

Friday night Catarina will invade LaCoste for the first conference game of the season for both teams. This game should be one of the deciding district games of the year since LaCoste and Catarina are both strong contenders for the district championship. A large crowd is anticipated.

HONDO'S FIRST ORGANIZATION FOR PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE

Following the initial meeting of the group convened on "the following Monday night, July 12th," the movement had evidently appealed to the public, for six new members were received, and one of the new men, J. B. Hurt, was elected vice-president.

C. J. Bless, chairman of Finance Committee, reported $3.50 collected.

Bill Ney and Frank Cokrell were appointed to see after fire alarms, and the town was divided into four zones with a signal for each zone that would indicate the location of the fire while sounding the alarm.

The railroad was the dividing line for the north and south areas and "Haass Street," presumably the north and south street on which Judge H. E. Haass' residence is situated, separated the east from the west, thus forming the four zones.

Ten short blasts of the whistle was to be the general alarm. This followed by one longer blast indicated the northwest zone. Likewise two blasts indicated zone 2, the southwest; three blasts, zone 3, southeast; and four blasts the fourth or northwest zone. This process was to be repeated six times. There is no record of any one ever waiting to count all the blasts before starting to run — we went on foot then as autos were not in use — or failing to find the fire when they looked for it.

In these minutes occurs the first mention of the fire-engine, and strange to say, instead of describing the engine, giving its capacity, its manner of operation, cost, etc., we find this entry:

"Adopted by company to buy a bell to go with engine."

Whether we had been given the engine before effecting organization or whether we bought the bell first and fitted the engine to the size of the bell our memory is as blank as the minutes.

You guess!

We do remember that our first fire engine was a chemical drum holding about fifty gallons of chemicals, mounted on a short axle tree between two wheels set so close together that it required utmost skill to avoid turning it over in rounding corners. To this was attached a short tongue with a cross bar in the end so that a left-handed man could grab one end and a right-handed man the other and by keeping in step they could trot to a fire in a surprisingly short space of time, especially if they were long-winded and had two or three of a kind pushing in the rear and keeping it well balanced on its wheels.

And right here I stop to make a sad confession. The engine was kept for years in the east end of a lumber shed that stood right where the Hondo Lumber Co. office now stands, convenient to the street. Being the closest one to it, I generally managed to get it out of storage by the time help arrived to pull it. Many was the time I was panting mightily by the time the help took over. But, alas, there came the night of my undoing. I started out from the fire shed and down the street doing pretty well, two huskeys in front pulling and me doing the pushing act from the rear. Soon several others joined in the pushing, and with each new pusher the speed grew faster and my breath shorter, and about the time we were opposite the water works I found myself — not purposely but unavoidably — hanging on to and riding instead of pushing the engine. In humiliation I dropped off, the engine soon left me behind, and I dropped out of the fire company!

Seriously, this engine served a useful purpose over a period of years, until it became unsafe from age and deterioration and was re-

Pearsall is organizing a Garden Club, according to the Pearsall Leader, something which every small town or small city should have to keep the community pretty and neat. Pearsall flower lovers met Tuesday this week to get the plan going.

UVALDE HOSPITAL

Over in Uvalde the storm on the county hospital apparently has abated as the commissioners approved last week the original petition for issuance of $75,000 in hospital bonds and Sabinal withdrew its petition for a Sabinal "Emergency Ward" so as not to endanger the entire project, according to the Uvalde Leader-News.

The Bandera Legion Post will soon erect a large flag pole in front of their Memorial Hall. The pole is the one used to fly the flag over the Hondo Air Field during the war, and is one of the finest in this part of the country. By The Editor

Just to see how many people would be coming up from Devine to see the football game, we drove out to 173 and started south about seven o'clock last Friday evening.

It looked as though everyone in Devine had decided to make the trip, and the line of cars was visible for miles. The big procession extended over 25 miles to highway, and it was not easy to find a place where it was safe to turn around and get in the parade.

The importance of that new highway was shown clearly, and its value will be demonstrated again Sunday, when a large number of Hondo folks will drive to Devine for the Golden Jubilee Celebration and the dedication of the new St. Joseph School.

Making it possible for friends to get together easily is one of the greatest benefits conferred on us by our highway system. Let us all drive safely, so that our friends will not have to get together and say "Doesn't he look natural?"

Because when they say you "look natural", it is a compliment for the undertaker, not for you.

Some of our Anvil Herald readers have not been getting their paper lately. The post office has sent us notices stating that several have moved, and when they move, the paper does not go forward.

If you know some of these folks, and where they live now, please let us know. The post office says that there is either no such number as that given on our address, or that they have moved without leaving a forwarding address.

Fred Bader, or Beeler, of Devine, Rt. 1, sent us money for a subscription and so far as we know, still hasn't received a paper. We have tried two or three ways of spelling the name, and still the papers don't reach him.

Mrs. A. L. Kramer of Phoenix, Arizona, has not claimed her paper at general delivery. R. B. Wiedersanders of San Francisco is undeliverable at 1651 21st Street.

All these people have paid up subscriptions, and we want them to get their "letters from home." If you know the current addresses, please let us know.

And if you plan to move, be sure to tell us about it in advance, so you won't miss a copy.

I Am A Medina County
Businessman Who Depends On Medina County
Trade For My Own
Profits.

I know that when I buy from other Medina County business firms I am helping both them and myself, because money spent in Medina County makes more jobs, helps pay rent, taxes and salaries, and means better stores for Medina County.

When our merchants are prospering, their stores will constantly be improved, assuring more local trade, and also more business from a much larger trade area. Better stores keep more trade in the county, and bring more customers to town.

So I resolve to set every Medina County resident a good example from now on. I know it will help me and help the county.

I shall buy everything I use, wear or eat in Medina County. I shall buy my automobiles, refrigerators, washing machines, radios, bathtubs, rugs, furniture, and jewelry in Medina County. For I know that every Medina County business man deserves and needs the loyal support of every other business man. I will not send or spend my money outside of Medina County for anything that I can buy in a local store. If my merchant does not have it in stock, I shall have him order it for me.

I know that Medina County merchants have a fine selection of nationally known brands, and that prices and terms in Medina County are as good as I can find anywhere.

I do not merely live in Medina County. When I am in Medina County I live. Good living will be shared by everyone if we all buy our needs in Medina County.

World Council Will Stand Or Fall on Public Opinion

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON.—Here are some more notes from a reporter's notebook (of course, reporters don't really carry notebooks—they write on whatever is handy—this is a menu) at the United Nations.

Some of the people who are reading this column attended sessions of the United Nations. I think I recognized some of you. It was hard to get in because so many nations felt this session was so important that they brought much larger staffs than ever before. These "extra" workers couldn't sit in the seats reserved for delegates, nor the news people's, so they were given seats ordinarily handed out to the public.

For those of you who stayed home and listened to the radio or read the reports in the paper—well, what impression did you get?

Your impression is highly important, as I'll try to point out later.

There was, and is this, danger, which Trygve Lie, secretary general of the United Nations, pointed out in a speech which stirred all the delegates who heard it (and you, too, I imagine, if you were listening) when he summarized it afterward over the ABC network.

Lie said: "... the peoples of the world, and many governments as well, are shocked, frightened and discouraged to find that those same nations which created the United Nations so openly disagree." He called for a rebirth of the "San Francisco spirit," the spirit which we all felt in those hopeful days when the United Nations was born.

A colleague of mine, a most restrained and thoughtful commentator (Pauline Frederick, with considerable experience here and abroad) told me something which is worth repeating. She was interviewing Eleanor Roosevelt at a luncheon at Hyde Park. Whatever you may think of Mrs. Roosevelt's domestic politics you must know in what high regard she is held as a member of the American delegation to the United Nations.

My colleague asked her if her heart weren't heavy over the world situation today. I haven't her exact words here, but Mrs. Roosevelt replied in the negative. She said we had expected too much too soon from the United Nations. And then she went on to point out what so many of the delegates have said, namely, that faulty and ineffective as the United Nations may be, it is far better than nothing. How many times have I heard that from even the most cynical of the reporters and observers here!

As the New York Times remarked in a recent editorial, "it cannot be stressed too often that the struggle brought to a head in this session of the general assembly is not against the Soviet Union but FOR the United Nations." The most striking thing, the editorial added, is "the determination of the United Nations (that means the member nations) to survive."

One strange phenomenon which appears to persons not too well acquainted with the ways of such gatherings is the friendly and entirely normal manner in which the delegates to the United Nations who attack each other on the rostrum, consort in the corridors and lounges provided in the two buildings which now temporarily house the executive council and the general assembly, respectively. That's nothing new to people who have covered congress.

Dispensing of News Is Vital to U. N.

The longer I serve, covering these meetings, the more I realize that the most important of all the groups, not excluding the delegates themselves, are those which serve to dispense the news and information concerning the United Nations.

It would be impossible, of course, for enough people to visit the sessions to affect public opinion greatly. But many of the people who do come go back with a message which stirs great interest in the organization in their communities. Proof of this interest was contained in the report of the secretary general, Lie, when he said that information had been sent out and other steps taken in cooperation with a thousand meetings in the past year.

But more important than anything else are the actual reports of press and radio direct from one or the other of the two headquarters, or as a result of the many interviews with members of the permanent secretariat.

Here is what they've done with radio alone:

During the general assembly, the radio division of the department of public information will broadcast for 12 hours a day, while visiting radio commentathe debates for listeners in 16 countries.

The French, Spanish, Chinese and Russian sections of the radio division also are preparing to broadcast adaptations of one of the U. N. programs which will be offered in transcription to stations unable to relay the original broadcast.

The two services most widely relayed, because of the high quality of reception, are those in Spanish (to Latin America) and in Chinese. The programs all carry the latest news on work of the assembly and other United Nations bodies, interviews with delegates, background talks, recorded excerpts from speeches in debate and short features.

As the bickering and obstructionism increased at the current session and it became clear that confidence in the United Nations was being undermined, the importance of the work of the agencies distributing information concerning the topics discussed by the general assembly, became more and more evident. The reason was this: It became clear that under the present structure of the United Nations, where a unanimous agreement on the part of the major powers before major steps could be taken, is required, the only force behind the whole idea is the force of public opinion.

TRYGVE LIE

As this is being written, the question of the report of a committee on tele-communications is being discussed. The plans envisioned by the men on the United Nations who realize the importance of strengthening the opinion-forming force of the organization, are not too grandiose to be practical but they do involve expenses which make their completion uncertain. Nations of the world are all feeling the pinch of poverty and there is a strong move to cut expenses.

A part of the tele-communications plan was a radio network which would dispense objective world news for all the world. To show you how well the meagre efforts along those lines already have succeeded, I was told by the radio liaison division that even the Russian reporters who, as you know, work for newspapers which are under a strict censorship, which permit no news which doesn't suit their needs, have begun to ask for items issued by the United Nations because they are so fair, so objective that no one could accuse them of containing propaganda for any one nation.

The men on the staff of the United Nations are not all perfect. There are a number of weak sisters. But on the whole, it is surprising to see how the majority of them has been able to develop a world-wide viewpoint, an attitude whose whole policy is based on world understanding and the perpetuation of peace.

SAME AS IN 500 A.D.

Pacific Journey Made on Raft

Dr. Thor Heyerdahl, 32-year-old Norwegian ethnologist and zoologist, had a theory that the first Polynesians were blue-eyed blondes who floated over to their Pacific islands from South America on rafts in about the year 500 A. D.

What he did about proving that theory now is history. He and a party of six men built themselves a primitive raft of bamboo and balsa wood, climbed aboard and got themselves adrift at Callao, Peru.

Exactly 101 days later the scientific group drifted ashore on their raft, the Kon-Tiki, at Raroia reef in the Tuamotu archipelago, center motors, oars or sails. Their only means of propulsion on the 4,300-mile trip had been the Humboldt and South Equatorial current.

That, said Dr. Heyerdahl as he landed in San Francisco en route to Norway, provided "indubitable proof" of the veracity of his theory.

"The fact that we made the journey demonstrates it could have been done around 500 A. D., when the Polynesians were first populated," he said. "Expert navigators said it couldn't be done, that the balsa wood would sink, that it was impossible; but it wasn't."

He related that the current and wind sometimes carried the raft as only 9 miles; but that "we always moved westward." The raft was 45 feet long and 18 feet wide—a virtually infinitesimal craft on which to cross the vast sweep of the Pacific.

With true scientific objectivity, the men ate a little of everything that came their way during the course of the journey—fish, small crabs that walked on the ocean, seaweed and plankton. Plankton was described as a semi-microscopic sea life, both animal and vegetable, which was "like shrimp paste."

Cost of the expedition, estimated at $40,000, was financed by Dr. Heyerdahl through funds of his own and by borrowing money.

PAST AND PRESENT PRESIDENTS... Unusual indeed is a picture of the President of the United States chatting with a predecessor in his office. The occasion here was the naming by President Truman of former President Hoover to the chairmanship of a 12-man commission to study plans for reorganizing the federal government.

NEWS REVIEW

Urge Food Conservation; New Battle Shakes U.N.

DIETETICS:

Waste Less

Lips that sincerely frame the words "food conservation" will not touch such sturdy edibles as meat, poultry and eggs quite so often hereafter.

Charles Luckman, head of President Truman's citizens food committee, opened the widely heralded "waste less" campaign by calling on the American people to cut their consumption of those three items, thereby effecting a conservation of grain for Europe.

"At the same time, it was disclosed that stop-gap aid for Europe this winter may run as much as 800 million dollars—220 million more than Mr. Truman had estimated earlier.

The appeal for Americans to cut down on the amount of foods requiring grain feeding was couched in a five-point program which, if followed, will eliminate the traditional race for the last chop on the platter—it won't be there.

Those five diatetic commandments were: 1) Buy cheaper meat cuts; 2) Don't serve too much; 3) Don't overcook meat; 4) Use leftovers; 5) Save wheat in all other possible ways.

In the future was the possibility that a voluntary program of meatless days and a reduction in the size of bread loaves would be put into effect.

NEW FIGHT:

Recalls Yalta

In the U. N. another scarehead of possible failure and collapse of that organization arose as the U. S. and Russia plunged into a new skirmish.

The issue: Which nation shall succeed pro-Russian Poland on the security council. Poland has represented eastern Europe and the Slav bloc for two years. Russia wants the Ukraine, which, although an integral part of the Soviet Union, have a separate U. N. delegation. U. S. contention is that the Ukraine is not a sovereign nation, therefore does not rate a separate status.

In the background of the affair was the Stalin-Roosevelt Yalta agreement which gave the Soviet Union three votes in the United Nations. Russia proper, the Ukraine and White Russia each has one.

How the U.S.S.R. came to get three votes probably happened something like this: Both the Ukraine and White Russia, intensely nationalistic, did not like to lose their identities by being merged with greater Russia. The Communist politburo, therefore, as a sop to their nationalism, granted the two territories a sort of nominal independence.

At Yalta, then, Stalin told Roosevelt that he wanted the Ukraine and White Russia to be represented in the U. N. for "internal reasons." F.D.R., being an old politician and sympathetic with "internal" difficulties, agreed.

Thus, the stage was set for one of the most serious battles yet to develop within the United Nations.

Income Disparities

"Real income" of wage and salary earners continues to drop, while farmers' income still is rising, it has been revealed by a monthly Investors Syndicate survey of purchasing power. "Real income" is the relationship of revenue to living costs.

Wage and salary earners now have only about 96 cents of buying power for each dollar a year ago, while farmers have about $1.09.

At the same time, the biggest cause of the wage earners' problem is the sharp rise in the price of food. The average family now pays more than $1.31 for the same amount of food that a dollar bought a year ago. It also pays $1.06 for each dollar on rent, $1.18 to the 1946 dollar for clothing and $1.23 for miscellaneous expenses.

"This continued divergence between farm and city buying power," the survey pointed out, "indicates that a serious unbalance may threaten the stability of our economy. A close balance is essential."

RECOGNITION:

Playing Safe

Not as a gesture of approval, but rather as a means of keeping informed of internal developments did the United States grant full diplomatic recognition to the Communist-dominated government of Bulgaria.

Robert A. Lovett, U. S. acting secretary of state, said that the action meant neither that this country approved nor condoned "certain recent actions of the Bulgarian government."

Although he did not say so, Lovett obviously referred to Bulgaria's execution of Nikola Petkov, leader of the opposition to the Communists.

Previously, recognition of the Bulgarian government was withheld on the grounds that the pro-Soviet regime had been elected unfairly, but now the U. S. felt that it was more important to have an embassy in the country to protect American interests there.

LITTLE HOPE:

Less Coal

There is little or no hope springing in the collective breast of official Washington that the coal shortage this winter can be averted.

Current estimates place coal production as running several million tons a month behind exports and domestic consumption, principally because of the coal car shortage. This has resulted in winter stockpiles depreciating instead of growing, as they normally would.

It was hoped at first that some relief would come when winter weather stops or curtails road-building and construction, thus permitting diversion of sand and gravel cars to the coal fields. However, a railroad spokesman said the diversion of such cars would do nothing but offset a normal 10 per cent drop in railroad efficiency in winter.

Bus Driver's Story

A man ran for a bus, waving his arms and hoping it would stop at a nonstop corner. The kindly driver did.

The man fished a $10 bill from his wallet.

"No change," said the driver. "Any one split a ten?" asked the man of the other passengers.

"Two fives," spoke up a lady. "No better," said the driver. "Pay another time."

The man picked up a discarded paper and read until arrival at his destination. He put the paper in his pocket and asked the driver, "Can I get a transfer?"

The driver snorted, "Mister, all you can get on this bus is off!"

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

More and More Inflation

WASHINGTON. — The New Deal crowd is buoying itself up with talk of a coming national income reaching 200 billion dollars a year—or over.

The last figure mentioned by Mr. Truman in his midsummer economic note to congress was 176 billion dollars for this year. Such a boom as the freependers are hoisting as the freependers are hoisting about would be a sensational further updraft on inflation, which probably could be gained only by higher prices and wages, as the nation already is gainfully employed to just about the utmost. But such an updraft could be forced no doubt by giving 29 billions more to European nations.

From the other side, you hear exactly the opposite story. High prices are beginning to cause diminution of unit sales, say the non-New Dealers. In many cases dollar volume of sales is off, but in others, where it is up slightly, the increase represents sales of fewer units sold for more money.

Not so much money is being thrown around loosely in domestic markets of all kinds. Thus the devotees of this side of the question are concluding the top of inflation already has been reached and we are in for the reaction this fall or after the turn of the year.

NATURAL GROWTH THEORY

In such a situation, prophesying would seem to be a fool's business. Not only because these opposing schools of economic thought are developing, but chiefly because the economic factors at hand so far are so indefinite and insecure no man who watches his words could possibly use many arbitrary ones in such a situation.

The economic fallacies which are running around loose through the daily news in the papers approach ridiculousness. The thought is being presented, for instance, that the new hike in national income can work out from "the natural growth" of the country. Similarly, some authorities are saying, even in financial journals, that inflation ordinarily comes after wars and we need a national income of 200 billion dollars to carry in and retire the war debt.

These suppositions are only fractionally and dangerously true. The national debt itself was made taxable under Treasury Secretary Morgenthau. While the budget carries an appropriation of 5.1 billion dollars to pay the interest on it next year, the burden of interest is somewhat less, because an inestimable portion of this amount will be taken from bondholders in taxes during depressions or plenty. An inflated dollar may retire a debt more easily, but it is a long way to retire a debt of 250 billion dollars with an annual retirement fund of 3 to 7 billions. And it takes a lot of "natural growth" to pay off 250 billions.

ESCAPIST REASONING

The indispensable main point of this matter—the point which is being forgotten—is that in inflating your dollar you can very easily bankrupt the workings of a nation and make it impossible for the country to earn enough to sustain itself, much less pay off both debts and interest. By constantly hoisting prices and wages (the wage increases always lag behind the price increases and most people do not get the same increase), you do not actually make debt payment easier for the people themselves, but you make it more difficult to keep the impetus of business strong as prices get too high.

The necessity for defending and fighting for some common sense in all this current folly of discussion was never greater than at this moment. If the answer is to be worked out at all, it must be done by insisting upon reasonableness and discounting the advice of fools.

Too many people in this country have gone into escapist reasoning of economics. They tell themselves grandiose hopes to make themselves feel better. They have done this so often now they are beginning to think these hopes are actual.

Evading the Taft Law

The Graphic Arts League, an organization of 22 printing companies of Baltimore, has hailed the AFL International Typographical union and the Baltimore union No. 12 before the National Labor Relations board, charging violation of the Taft-Hartley law. The printers' union has simply refused to sign a written contract, on instructions from the ITU president, Woodruff Randolph.

The NLRB's decision in this case no doubt eventually will get to the courts. The AFL printers, otherwise, have simply adopted a policy commonly adopted by closed shop unions which intend to avoid the new law entirely by giving up its benefits.

Kathleen Norris Says:

They Aren't So Lucky

Bell Syndicate.—WNU Features.

"It never will fill a man's soul with the deep content, the trembling pride, the fears and hopes, despairs and victories that are true marriage."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

IN NEW YORK state the percentage of old bachelors and unmarried old women is increasing; it has doubled in less than 50 years. Everything that touches our domestic life has changed, and this is possibly one result. Men can be very comfortable without the little woman, the glowing fireside, the waiting slippers and housecoat. Women can earn real money, enough for motor cars, fur coats and ocean trips, unencumbered by the presence of children or the need to arrange things with George.

Of course, men and women who don't marry sacrifice a lot—only they don't know it. They may have occasional wrenches of loneliness and longing, but they consider them but passing emotions, not to be taken too seriously. Also they see the failures; they hear the babies crying, hear about doctors' and dentists' bills; they study divorce figures. So they think they know all about it, and decide that they are lucky to have kept out of it.

Clubs make men delightfully comfortable now, or faithful old servants—Filipino, Chinese, perhaps colored, take care of their every wish. They are asked out to dinners, and fascinating widows, "grass or sod," as Mrs. Wiggs put it, flank them on either side. As they grow richer and older they grow more and more spoiled, complacent and adroit at dodging feminine nets.

Just Fooling Selves.

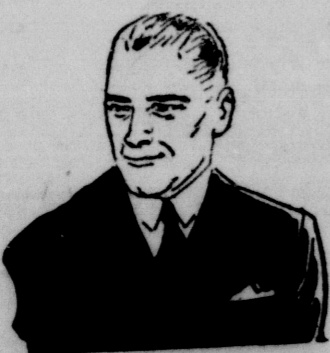

On her side the single woman has lots of cold reason too. She can spend her money as she pleases. She doesn't have to face the physical and nervous strain of child-bearing. She can buy a charming little mountain cabin or a weather-beaten seaside farmhouse, and putter with it and make it perfect, and presently have intelligent women friends up for week ends, and decide that there is nothing like freedom from family ties. But both the bachelor and the maiden lady know that they are somewhat fooling themselves. They know that there are emotional and practical doors they dare not open. They know that they have dodged the really vital side of life, and filled its place with make-believe; clubs and clothes and business success and old silver spoons and new cars. These are not life.

When the years begin to creep into the sixties there is nothing quite so alone as the unmarried man or woman. Even the widower has his sacred memories, and perhaps his children and their children to remind him that he still has strong ties with life. A thousand tender pictures come back to him; he sees his lovely young wife spent and triumphant in a hospital bed, with her child in the curve of her arm. He sees the little six-room house, the shaky slip of an apple tree, the fire-place with plaster and chips still piled in it, and again they are viewing their own home, their first owned home. He remembers the blazing logs in winter, breakfast under the apple tree in summer, Christmases, measles, money cares, high holidays. He remembers that her last look, tired and gray and glad to close her eyes, was for him.

Nor is this one-millionth part of what the unmarried lose, and never know they lose.

Marriage Should Be Glamorous

For I don't think they are to blame. I think it's the married folk who are to blame. I don't think they make marriage attractive enough.

They grow richer and more spoiled...

LIVING ALONE

Those who prefer to stay single enjoy certain advantages and compensations, as Miss Norris points out in today's article. It is something to be able to spend all your money on yourself, to do what you please without having to worry about what your spouse thinks. There is freedom from the expenses and worries of family life, the care of children, the troubles with in-laws.

Yet these single people really are trying to deceive themselves, Miss Norris continues. All the luxuries and pleasures, the freedom and the unconcern, are poor compensation for the deep human joys and satisfactions that married life brings. Life without love is dull and barren.

Part of the reason why people stay single, Miss Norris says, is because married people fail to make marriage look attractive. The glamour fades quickly because of the selfishness and pettiness of one or both partners. The high divorce rate indicates that there is something fundamentally wrong with our attitude toward married life. With our high level of comfortable existence, many of the older problems should disappear, but there seems to be more domestic discord than ever.

Despite worries and hardships, married life is so rewarding to those with a little patience and forbearance, that the most luxurious life spent alone is drab and dreary by comparison, concludes Miss Norris.

I don't think they preserve carefully enough the glamour and the miracle. If husbands and wives always spoke to each other kindly; if they built up an increasing and multiplying credit of confidence and goodness in the bank that is their life together; if they valued their children, loved them, dramatized the exquisite beauty of the nursery; if they made light of money worries, saved, planned, rejoiced in their life together—then there would be no bachelors, and every girl who got a good husband would feel herself blessed among women.

The old financial dependence won't come back. A man no longer has to make a home and pay all expenses for a houseful of women, old women, children, babies. Everything is easier now; everyone lives separately. Mother has a lucrative job, and the very teen-agers break away and set up bachelor establishments of their own.

But the old values remain. Using canned pie-crust and dropping garbage into an incinerator tube, flooding the house with electric lights and keeping halls and bathrooms at June temperatures all the year 'round, telephoning downstairs for company dinners and leaving Detroit at dawn to lunch at Scotts in Piccadilly—all this is exciting. But it never will take the place of the real values of life; it never will fill a man's or a woman's soul with the deep content, the trembling pride, the fears and hopes, despairs and victories, that are true marriage. It never will give them the faithful firm clasp of another hand on theirs, in sickness and health, for richer or poorer, for better or worse.

ANTISEPTIC IN CINNAMON

A germ-killer from cinnamon oil has been discovered accidentally by Sister M. Petronella Schroeder, bacteriologist at the Institutum Divi Thomae in Cincinnati. It is a by-product of the scientific search during the war for chemicals to replace quinine as a malarial remedy.

Searching for a remedy related to penicillin in another mold, the sister used ether reclaimed after its war use in extracting a chemical from a plant that yields cinnamon oil.

Keeping Public Informed

WASHINGTON. — One thing General Marshall hasn't learned in his difficult role as secretary of state is the importance of keeping the American public informed. Not only has he abandoned the daily press conferences of previous secretaries of state, but also his undersecretary, Bob Lovett, has ordered a new blackout which helps to mystify rather than clarify the issues Marshall should want the public to understand.

Twenty-odd years ago, Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes began a policy of meeting the press once a day. At times he even held conferences twice a day. Thus began a period of genuinely frank and open diplomacy.

Other Republican secretaries of state—Frank B. Kellogg, Henry L. Stimson—followed suit. So also for a while did Cordell Hull. However, because of illness, Hull's conferences gradually lapsed.

Jimmie Byrnes held conferences intermittently, but now Marshall has suspended them almost altogether. Instead of daily meetings, his press conferences can be counted on the fingers of two hands. At first this could be chalked up to inexperience. New at the game, Marshall was not familiar with various foreign questions, felt he couldn't talk about them to the press. But now that he has the reins firmly in his hand, Marshall still shuns the old Republican tradition of regular press conferences.

FLYING HIGH

The air forces is keeping it quiet for the sake of the other services but it has been snowed under with applications from former army, navy and marine officers—begging for enlisted status in the air corps. More than 24,000 applications have poured into recruiting offices from ranks as high as navy captain and army colonel. Those who can meet the air corps' tough standards are assigned new ranks, ranging from corporal to master sergeant. Although enlistments are booming under impetus of a vigorous recruiting drive, the air corps is still short 67,000 enlisted men.

Henry Wallace—Democrat

You can write it down that Henry Wallace finally has made up his mind not to lead a third party in the 1948 election campaign.

The Wallace decision came after a political survey showed:

1. A third party would have no chance of victory in 1948.
2. A third party would elect Republicans everywhere.
3. There is more hope of liberalizing the Democratic party than of forming a successful third party.

The Wallace decision means that he definitely will remain in the Democratic party, although he has reached no decision about supporting Mr. Truman for reelection.

Wallace and aides won't admit it publicly, but privately they believe Mr. Truman has only a slight chance for reelection, no matter whom the Republicans nominate.

MacArthur as Candidate

Quiet, conscientious Rep. W. Sterling Cole, Republican of Bath, N. Y., was discussing his trip to the Philippines with Capt. Vic Harding, secretary of the Democratic congressional committee.

"Are you going to see to it that General MacArthur gets back here in time for a heroic 100 days before the convention?" Harding joshed his friend.

"You've got it figured right," the New York congressman replied. "And when we bring him back here, you come and see me. Maybe I'll have jobs for you and some of your Democratic friends on my farm. With MacArthur back, you won't have much to do in Washington."

"I'm not worried about that," shot back Harding. "We'll just bring General Wainwright in, fight the Battle of the Philippines all over again and find out who left the Philippines first and why."

No Caste System in Heaven

Caste-conscious enlisted men may achieve after death what they could never get in life—equal privileges with officers. Once they are six feet under, according to a postwar army ruling, discrimination officially ends. The new war department regulations call for identical graves regardless of rank or race, except in old cemeteries where the pattern would be interrupted.

Yet despite this bold break with brass-bound tradition, old practices still prevail up to the grave's edge.

The old burial code giving officers bigger tombstones and exclusive graves was scrapped by the army quartermaster corps under pressure from indignant kin. The quartermaster corps has charge of national cemeteries for both the army and navy.

Few Barred for Throwing Ball Games

Since major-league baseball was organized in 1876, no more than 15 of the 7,000 players connected with it have been permanently barred for throwing or attempting to throw a game or for concealing knowledge of such a plot. Among them were four members of the Louisville team in 1877, seven members of the Chicago White Sox in 1919 and two members of the New York Giants in 1924.

When Your Back Hurts -

And Your Strength and Energy Is Below Par

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won countrywide approval than on something less favorably known. Doan's have been tried and tested many years. Are at all drug stores. Get Doan's today.

Mystery of the Missing Farms

Yep, the number of farms in America is shrinking (by a quarter-million in the last five years!). What's happened to the missing farms? The land has been taken in by other farms, increasing the average size by twenty acres!

Does this growth mean farm-ing's no longer a family enter-prise? Just the opposite! More families own farms today than ever—only with labor-saving equipment they can handle more land, more work.

That's as it should be. The family farm is a fortress of democracy—where our free, American life is secure. Where every member co-operates and shares the work—living together in temperance and tolerance—temperance that pre-fers a moderate beverage like beer, and tolerance for a taste that may be different from one's own.

From where I sit, our Family Farms (and they're 96% of all farms) are something that this country can be proud of!

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Economical Cuts Of Meat Are Tasty If Prepared Right

Leftover meats are easily creamed and served in patty shells on a platter generously heaped with vegetables—an economy note for your budget.

Budget-wise homemakers are taking a second look at their budgets this season, and most of them are keeping one eye on their purse strings, while the other eye is glued to prices. One item that is getting extra consideration is meat.

There's hardly such a thing as a budget cut of meat anymore, but naturally there are some that are less expensive than others. Breast of lamb is among those as well as some of the beef cuts including tongue; if you like pork, you'll have to be satisfied with a suggestion of the flavor.

A roast is good economy if it is beef or lamb because you can count on two or three meals as well as sliced meat for sandwiches. If you plan on one roast per week—carefully cooked so as to avoid expensive shrinkage—then it's easy to use the economy items I've already mentioned to fill up the other days nicely.

Liver-Rice Cakes.

(Makes 10 cakes)

- 1 pound sliced pork liver
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/2 small onion
- 1 1/2 cups cooked rice
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 egg
- 1 1/2 tablespoons milk
- 1/4 cup milk

Fry the liver in the 1/2 cup of shortening until nicely browned and let cool. Put the liver and onion through the food chopper. Add the rice, salt, pepper, egg, milk and mix well. Shape into small cakes and brown in 1/4 cup of shortening until brown on both sides.

Barbecued Lamb Breast.

(Serves 4)

- 2 pounds breast of lamb
- 1 medium onion
- 1/2 cup chili sauce
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon red pepper
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- 1 cup water

Cut lamb into 5 pieces. Season with salt and pepper. Place in a hot skillet with the fatty sides of the meat on the bottom so they will brown easily. Mix chili sauce, red pepper, vinegar and water and pour over lamb. Slice onion and place over meat. Cover. Simmer for 1 1/2 hours, then remove lid and cook for about 20 minutes or until most of the barbecue sauce is absorbed.

A pot roast is very nice to have as the roast of the week, and then it's easy to use as sliced meat for supper, or ground and used for meat pies, stuffing for peppers, pinwheels with biscuit dough, etc. If you make it creole style, it will have plenty of flavor for other uses.

Creole Pot Roast.

- 5 pounds chuck of beef
- 1/4 cup salad oil
- Juice of 1 lemon
- 2 bay leaves
- 1 onion, minced
- 5 teaspoons allspice
- 5 teaspoons salt
- Pepper
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 2 tablespoons lard or drippings
- 2 cups tomatoes

LYNN SAYS:
Add 'Beauty Touches'
To Vegetables

Curly your raw carrots by slicing them with a potato peeler and curling them around the finger. Slip off the curls and place them close together in a dish of very icy water. Let stand for one half an hour and the curl will stay.

When you broil ham for dinner, place corn or green beans in the dripping pan and let the vegetables catch the delicious juices.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

- *Cream Swiss Steak
- Browned Potatoes
- Lyonnais Carrots
- Pineapple Cole Slaw
- Bran Muffins
- Floating Island
- Beverage

*Recipe given.

Mix oil, lemon juice and seasonings; rub well into meat. Dredge meat with flour and brown slowly in fat. Add the tomatoes. Cover closely and cook in a slow oven for about 4 hours or until meat is fork tender.

Swiss steak is cheaper than some cuts of meat, and the leftovers may be used as the meat from pot roast.

*Cream Swiss Steak.

- 1 1/2 pounds round or arm steak
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 cup flour
- 2 tablespoons lard
- 1/2 cup sliced onion
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/2 cup sour cream

Have steak cut 1 1/2 to 2 inches thick. Season with salt and pepper and pound flour well into steak. Brown steak on both sides, in lard or drippings. Add remaining ingredients. Cover closely and simmer for about 3 hours, or until tender.

Rice-Beef Balls.

- 1 1/2 pounds ground beef
- 1/2 cup uncooked rice
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon grated onion
- 1 can tomato soup
- 1/2 can water
- 2 tablespoons chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper

Mix meat, rice and seasonings. Shape into small balls and drop them into tomato soup to which the water, onion and green pepper have been added. Cook very slowly for 40 minutes. Serve with tomato sauce poured over them.

A few slivers of leftover meat are easily used in an attractive salad served in shells to make a substantial luncheon dish. Add eggs, cottage cheese and vegetables if you are somewhat shy of meat itself.

Here are two real economy dishes which you'll like for the cooler weather:

Breaded Oxtails.

(Serves 4)

- 2 oxtails
 - 3 sprigs parsley, chopped
 - 3 sprigs thyme
 - 1 bay leaf
 - Salt and pepper
 - Dash of cayenne
 - 1 egg, beaten
 - 1 cup sifted dry bread crumbs
- Wash oxtails and cut into 4-inch lengths. Cover with boiling water. Add parsley, thyme, bay leaves, salt, pepper and cayenne. Simmer tails until tender, about 2 to 3 hours. Let cool in stock. Drain meat, dip in egg and roll in crumbs. Fry in deep, hot fat (370 degrees) until brown.

Ham-Sweet Potato Puffs.

(Serves 5)

- 1 cup ground, cooked ham
 - 2 cups mashed sweet potatoes
 - 1 egg, beaten
 - 1/4 cup sifted flour
 - 1 teaspoon baking powder
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Combine ham, sweet potatoes and egg. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Add to ham mixture. Drop by spoonfuls onto a hot greased griddle. Brown on each side.

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

For cooked carrots, fleck them with chopped chives or parsley by adding the latter to the melted fat you use for seasoning.

Season chopped, freshly cooked spinach with crumbled bacon and a dash of nutmeg. Top with hard-cooked egg white and yolk, separated and put through a sieve.

Scalloped or stewed tomatoes take on added color and flavor if you add a dash of herbs to them and also a suggestion of finely minced onion and chopped green pepper.

Editor's Corner

This is a fable of the friendly postman.

One day, a postman turned into a little street along which were five small houses. He had been delivering mail in the neighborhood for years. The people who lived there were his friends.

At the first house he delivered a letter to a girl. Her eyes were shining and her smile was radiant as she read it. The postman knew it was a love letter. He had delivered many letters of love and had observed how they lifted the heart — made the spirits soar — with words of sentiment and affection.

At the next house he slipped a fat letter into the mail box. It was a letter of friendship for the whole family. He liked to deliver such notes for he knew they often contained clippings or snapshots, and discussed delightful, if inconsequential, events that delighted both the writer and readers. They reflected honestly and light-heartedly the day-to-day glory of life.

A troubled young man was waiting for him at the third house. Glumly, he read the letter which the postman handed him. "This is a serious one," he mused aloud, and the young man seemed to stand straighter as he spoke.

A letter of reassurance, the postman guessed. Well, such letters were among the best. They could strengthen a wavering determination. They could reason and plead or, like this one, reassure.

At the fourth house the letter he left was taken eagerly by a woman who brightened as she read it. "What a considerate, comforting letter!" she said, and her happiness was good to behold.

A thoughtful note, the postman reflected. It brought help to the doubtful, consoled the grief-stricken, spoke of encouragement and sympathy. Often, it pointed ahead to a brighter day for those who had reached the dead end of worry and despair, and of loneliness.

Now, approaching the fifth house, he saw someone waiting for him. With a quickening step the postman walked on. He had no letter to leave there. No one had written any.

"The unwritten letter," he said sadly. "It is the cruel letter."

It was a discovery the postman had made many times. The unwritten letter was the delayed — sometimes lost — opportunity to make someone happy. Moments saved by putting off the letter that should have been written were precious little compensation for good intentions that did not flourish.

"Perhaps tomorrow I can take a letter to that unhappy house," the postman said.

Any personal letter you write is your own work of art. It is your common carrier of happiness.

Your letters transport love and affection, news and pleasure, gaiety and amiability. They bring people together and keep together those who live apart; they span the distances and the years. Even if they must sometimes carry sad news, the very nature of these missives is personal, thoughtful, decent. They are priceless paper monuments to man's good will — person to person literature that runs its course from heart to heart.

A letter is a unique creation imposing little on its creator. Its effects are compounded, for every personal letter could — or should — inspire another.

You need not write much or even well. Implicit in every letter you write are good will, good intentions and consideration — the ingredients that dispel doubt and fear.

There are hearts you can fill with happiness. There is an empty mail box you can fill with letters. WRITE THAT LETTER TODAY!

NEW YORK — You can always spot the out-of-towners as they walk the streets of this burg — and the reasons why reflect to their credit rather than otherwise.

They're always up and around earlier in the a.m. than the natives, window-shopping along 5th Ave. in a leisurely manner while New Yorkers rush past them to make 9 o'clock office dead-lines.

Mrs. Out-of-Towner has her hair freshly waved in tight curls; Mr. wears obviously new clothes, usually a broad-rimmed hat (in contrast to the Homburg or the no hat at all of the natives); he will invariably be smoking a cigar, which New Yorkers don't, on the street.

Visitors from the hinterland make a strained point of never rubber-necking at the tall buildings; they speak softly and diffidently in restaurants and stores; they take off their hats in elevators, and let the women get in first.

Americans abroad may be loud and boastful, critical and impatient — because most of them these days happen to be New Yorkers with dough to throw around. But Americans visiting in New York usually are marked by their good behavior and their politeness — probably because that's the way they are back home!

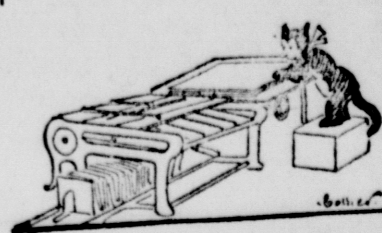

night", and must have learned that it took ammunition to service its equipment, for the only business of record for the meeting of July 26th was "President selected to order acid and soda." The practice meeting must have been the first try-out of the alarm system, as the meeting that ordered the practice had received the Committees report that: "All necessary arrangements made to have the whistle and telephone in use in case of fire."

The company was now one month old, was well organized, had attracted enough members to man its equipment and was prepared to give Hondo what she had not had heretofore — organized and trained personnel for systematically fighting fires.

HONDO'S FIRE DEPARTMENT placed by more efficient equipment.

At this same meeting Ed Ney, C. R. Fulton and J. B. Hurt, the two latter being new members, were "appointed to see about a hose cart."

At the third meeting, held July 19th, "Mr. Fulton was appointed to superintend the hose cart and adjust the cost not to exceed $7." A committee was appointed "to buy 250 feet of hose for cart." The Treasurer had just reported $40 in the treasury, and the boys no doubt felt like making a big splash. C. J. Bless was authorized to get a fire hook.

As we remember it, this hose cart was a four-wheeled, horse-drawn vehicle, stripped of its bed and arranged with a rack to carry this hook (and perhaps a ladder, or two) a reel with the hose, some half dozen or so chemical hand extinguishers and a number of buckets for arming a bucket brigade for carrying water. This equipment was kept at Mr. Fulton's livery stable which fronted the west side of the courthouse and has been long since removed. Like the chemical engine, this cart served until displaced by better equipment.

The third meeting adjourned after it had ordered a practice alarm for next "Wednesday
